About Music Heals

Launched in 2013, Music Heals is a group of music enthusiasts and music lovers who have come together with a shared belief in the healing powers of music. Our mission is to raise funds and awareness for music therapy initiatives in Canada. We work with music therapists, donors, and community agencies across the country to provide relief, strength, and hope to Canadians in need.

Music therapy is the skillful use of music by an accredited music therapist to promote, maintain, or restore an individual's mental, physical, emotional and spiritual health.

Your Support

Over the past five years Music Heals has granted $1.1 million for music therapy programs in Canada funding over 29,000 music therapist visits for Canadians in-need including:

Over the past 6 years we have proudly worked with 55 agencies on music therapy initiatives

With your support, Music Heals has transformed the lives of thousands of Canadians in need. We also know there is still more work to do. Despite ample evidence of its benefits, by and large music therapy is not covered by health care or extended health care plans, leaving thousands of Canadians without access to the innovative health care they need and deserve.

You can help us reach more Canadians with the healing power of music. We invite you to give the gift of music this year, and provide hope, strength, relief and encouragement to Canadians in need.
